Arena One Cookie Policy

How does Arena One use cookies?

We only use browser cookies to measure non-personal information, for example to learn about the behavior of visitors to our websites, to remember your preferences and to ensure we serve the correct content to you whilst on our websites.

What cookies do we use on our websites?

The following classification of cookies used on our websites is based on the International Chamber of Commerce guide for cookie categories:

- Strictly necessary cookies

'Strictly necessary' cookies let you move around a website and use essential features such as ensuring that you connect to the right service on the website when we make any change to the way our websites work. These cookies don't gather any information about you that could be used for marketing or remembering where you've been on the Internet. Accepting these cookies is a condition of using our websites as they are required for the proper operation of them. If you prevent cookies, we cannot guarantee how our websites will perform during your visit.

- Performance cookies

We use these cookies to collect information about how visitors use our websites, which parts of the websites you like and what types of content you view. By using our websites, you agree that we can place these types of cookies on your device. We use the information to improve our websites and enhance our user experience. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous.

- Functionality cookies

These cookies remember choices you make to improve your experience. By using the websites, you agree that we can place these types of cookies on your device. These cookies allow the websites to remember choices you make (such as content preferences, language or the region you are in) and provide enhanced, more personalized features. These cookies can also be used to remember changes you have made to text size, fonts and other parts of web pages that you can customize. They may also be used to provide services you have asked for such as commenting on a blog. The information these cookies collect may be anonymized and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites.

How can you control the use of cookies?

Your use of our websites constitutes your consent to the websites' setting cookies on your device.

If you do not want any of our websites to set cookies on your device then you should not use our site and you should delete any cookies which have been placed on your device. Alternatively, the 'Help' menu on the menu bar of most browsers will tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, how to have the browser notify you when you receive a new cookies and how to disable cookies altogether. However, because cookies allow you to take advantage of some of our websites' essential features, we recommend that you leave them turned on.
